Dedication

"The final test of a leader is that he leaves behind him in other men the conviction and the will to carry on."
Walter Lippman

Mr. George Higginbottom

As we, the class of 1968, graduate from Belmont High School, three administrators, Mr. George Higginbottom, Mr. Joseph F. Kolouch, and Mr. Leslie W. Crowson, will leave with us. It is to them that we dedicate our yearbook.

Our principal, Mr. Higginbottom, a dedicated chemistry teacher and then an effective administrator, has been principal of Belmont High School for twenty-four years. As principal he has been an intermediary among the school committee, the faculty, and the student body. At times of crises, such as the period following the fire, he has been able to coordinate these groups and guide them towards successful solutions. Mr. Higginbottom has always been concerned with the needs of the students and has done everything possible to help them to further and better their education.

Mr. Joseph F. Kolouch

Mr. Kolouch, the assistant principal, was also a chemistry teacher before becoming an administrator. As assistant principal he has efficiently directed enforcement of school rules. As advisor to the business staff of the Blueprint and to the student council, Mr. Kolouch has shown that his interest in the activities of the students goes beyond that of mere discipline.

Mr. Leslie W. Crowson

Mr. Crowson, director of the Vocational-Technical School, came to Belmont's Vocational School in its first year of existence, twenty-five years ago, as an automotive instructor. He has demonstrated an active interest in his field, such as being past president of both the Belmont Teacher's Association and Massachusetts Vocational Association. As principal of the Belmont Vocational-Technical School, he has directed the training and guidance of those students who are gaining technical skills in preparation for their future.

Guidance

It seems only yesterday that you as a class came to us with some anxiety, and yet with a basic confidence and desire to find a good road to education for the future. The school has endeavored to guide and encourage each of you along a path which will enable you to have a meaningful program of study and extracurricular participation in the light of your talents and aspirations. We think of your experience as one in which some road blocks have suggested a redirection of your aims or emphases, one in which new avenues of interest have opened up and become very meaningful, and one which by now finds you ready to move on to many different highways of adult experience.

We as counselors take pleasure in recognizing the accomplishments of our students. As a class, you have been outstanding in your capabilities and in your sincerity. It is our hope that the goal which you have set will prove rewarding in the years to come.

Career of Dedication Comes to a Close

by Regina Strazzulla, '69

In June of 1968 Mr. George Higginbottom, principal of Belmont Senior High School for nearly twenty-five years, will retire after a notable career as both teacher and administrator.

Mr. Higginbottom received his public school education in Millbury, Massachusetts, a town near the city of Worcester. From there he went on to attend Clark University where he received his Bachelor of Arts and Masters' degrees. During his graduate year he taught at the University as a laboratory instructor in organic chemistry. In 1932, as a chemistry teacher, Mr. Higwork. He tells he is happiest when, "I see young people find themselves and move ahead."

Talent Took Command

Marauders Win Second Season

by Dexter Williams, '68

Following two tough defeats at the beginning of the season in which Belmont was shut out, the Maroon Marauders finally got on the scoreboard against Melrose on Oct. 7. Melrose gained its first season victory by scoring a touchdown in each period. Quarterback Rick Merrick threw 65 and 40-yard TD passes and fullback Doug Searles scored two touchdowns rushing as invading Melrose took an insurmountable 26 point lead. Co-captain Al Sacco sparked a late Belmont comback by firing two final-quarter touchdown passes to Frank Holland covering 60 and 20 yards, making the final score 26-14.

Forum Club Plans Busy Year

Following the procedure of calling the meeting to order, welcoming the new members, and reading the minutes of last year's final meeting, the President, Ian Tink, spoke briefly about the history, purpose and future plans of the Forum Club at its first meeting on Oct. 19, 1967.

Emphasized in this talk were some of the activities to be supported this year: the nomination and election of Belmont High School's representative to Student Government Day and the planning of Student Exchange Day. The possibility of amending the club's Constitution to admit students from the sophomore class was also discussed. Barbara Franchi, James Egan and Randy Brown highlighted the program with the talks of their experiences in Girls' and Boys' States, independent miniature democratic governments in which the students actively participated as members of the community. Government was studied and practiced at the town, city, country and state level. The three Belmont students learned a great deal and had a wonderful time doing so.

STAGE BAND SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS

by Regina Strazzulla, '69

On Tuesday evening, December 5, The Belmont High School Stage Band performed for the Ladies' Rotary at the Unitarian Church. This concert was the first appearance outside of school for the group of young musicians. However with their fast-growing reputation as one of the finest concert groups around, there are certain to be many more requested appearances.

The program for the even-

School Reporters

Last Wednesday afternoon several members of the Science Club went on a day trip to the Harvard School of Chemistry. Accompanied by their advisor, Mr. Clish, the students were given a lecture and a guided tour of the school. Similar trips will be planned for the near future if enough interest is expressed.

The Senior French Club is now making plans for its annual dinner banquet. This year's banquet will be held at "Chez Tuellieries," and appropriately enough, all who attend will be ordered their dinners in French.

SPRING

Senior Class Officers

Three years have passed since I've been your advisor
And now, we are all three years wiser;
But I can remember that first day well,
When you greeted me with a hoot and a yell.
"Here's your advisor," Mr. Higginbottom said;
So there you were, about to be led.
I gave you the pitch, you took it as fate–
You're Sixty-eight, and you can be great.

With that we set off on a much-travelled road
Both hopeful the other would carry the load.
There was work to be done; there was no time to lose;
There were dues and dances, there were dances and dues.
To lead your class in its educational toil
You chose Rooney, Muckjian, Winn, and Boyle.
These leaders you chose, they took a bow,
But they'd work hard, I know that now.

As time moved along, you showed what you had.
Sixty-eight's class was not at all bad.
Scholars, athletes, and those who took chances;
And let's not forget those "funny class dances."
The dress code, the haircuts, each had its place
While in class you discovered Shakespeare and space.
Shall I mention the rallies where spirit abounded?
To be sure Sixty-eight was very well-rounded.

And now time's come to say farewell,
To say good-bye to that last school bell,
But, as always, you work in a stylish way,
Departing with you are Misters H., C., and K.
So it's off to the world, but you needn't fear
Some valuable memories will always be here.
And for my own part, I take it as fate–
"You're Sixty-eight, and you surely are great."

Donald P. Crowley

Leading us through the seasons

Since the class of 1968 came to Belmont High, three happy and memorable years have passed. We thank Mr. Donald Crowley, our class advisor, and the patient teachers for their instruction, foresight, and dedication. We appreciate, also, the entire school administration for their guidance, especially at the time of the fire in spring of 1967.

Now the future is facing us and each one of us must choose his own role in life. May we all be strong enough to endure the world's ever-increasing pace. May we benefit from our experiences at high school and strive for success so that Belmont High will be as proud of us as we are of it.

May we ever keep in mind that the greatest happiness, the deepest satisfaction, and the truest guide in life is to endeavor, always, to do our best toward achieving our individual goals.

THE CLASS SONG

The time is here to say goodbye,
Three years have come and gone;
We'll cherish mem'ries of our school,
But now we must move on.

O, Belmont High, we sing aloud
To you our thanks we give;
You've helped us through maturing days,
And taught us how to live.

O, Belmont High, we bid farewell,
Our voices joined as one;
We leave with courage in our hearts,
Our lives have just begun.

— Ingrid Dahl
Kathy Youell
